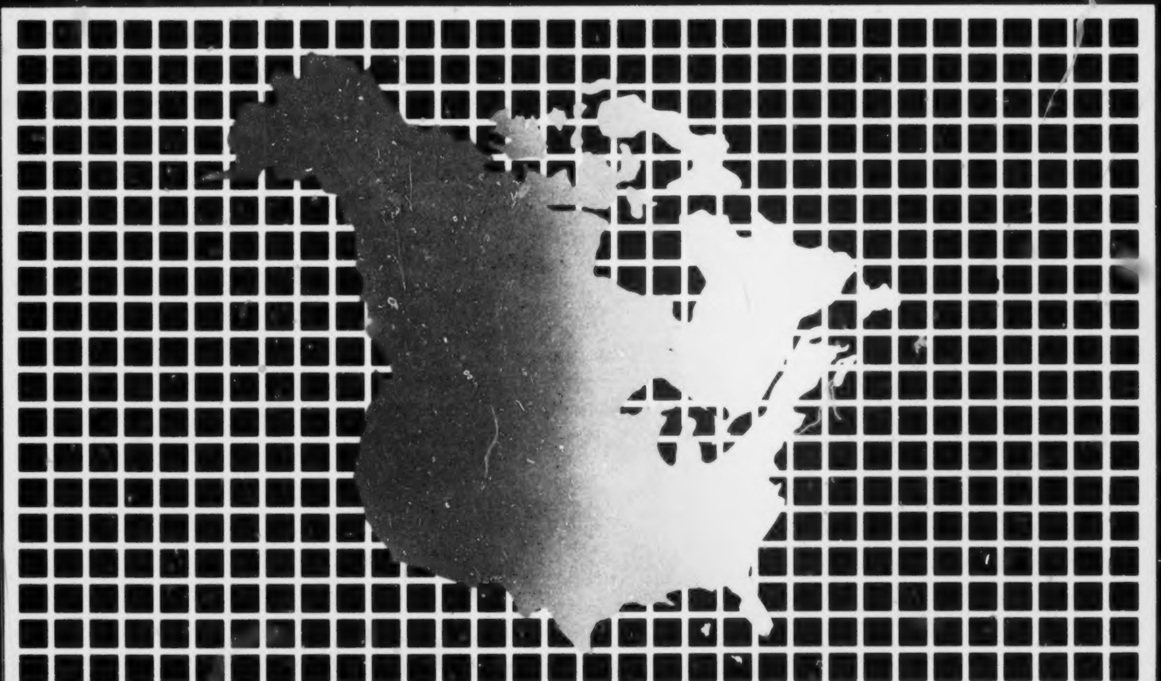
Market Guide



1989

Discover the Opportunities.

The Chicago Tribune's Marketing and Research Services can put you in the seller's seat with two definitive studies on Chicago's retail marketplace:

Retail Strategies...
measures the shopping behavior and attitudes of Chicago area men and women. In order to help you identify, understand and market to Chicago consumers, the study...

- measures shopper share and shopping patterns for major retailers and regoinal shopping centers throughout the Chicago market
- identifies shopper segments based on attitudes toward fashion, purchase history or intention and demography
- evaluates competitive strengths and weaknesses among stores
- evaluates media usage and advertising effectiveness

The Shopping Center Report...
updates the retail and business community about recent developments and trends involving shopping centers and malls in the Chicago metropolitan area. Its profiles and maps identify, contrast and evaluate the demographic characteristics and shopper composition of different centers. Furthermore, this report highlights the variety of customized analyses a Chicago Tribune representative can provide to help you design productive marketing plans and strategies.

Discover the sales opportunities within each of these Chicago Tribune studies. For more information, call (312) 222-3186.

Changes in the 1989 Market Guide

The recently released 1986 census data from Statistics Canada are included in this year's Market Guide, and these figures are used as the basis for new Canadian population estimates.

In the U.S.A. there is a new Metropolitan Statistical Area — Decatur, Alabama — that the Office of Management and Budget has defined as the combination of Morgan and Lawrence Counties. This brings the total number of MSAs to 318.

We have also added to the ranking tables for cities in Section I, and now provide rankings for each of the nine retail categories — lumber/hardware, general merchandise, food, automotive, gasoline, apparel, furniture, eat/drink and drug sales. Before, we only ranked MSAs and counties by all of these categories. Cities were ranked only by population, disposable income, income per household, total retail sales and food sales.

The projections in this Market Guide are based on a model developed by Woods & Poole Economics of Washington, D.C. that has been featured repeatedly in American Demographics magazine and has been consistently recognized as being one of the most accurate forecasting models available.

Each year, the forecasts are updated using the latest economic indicators provided by the Bureau of Economic Analysis as benchmarks to check previous estimates and make the necessary adjustments in current forecasts.

Data for the heart of the Market Guide, the individual 14-point market surveys for each market in the USA and Canada where a daily newspaper is published, provides users with unduplicated information gathered by our staff from many sources, including the daily newspapers serving the market.

Additional information about any of the markets listed may be obtained by contacting the newspaper or newpapers listed in item 14 of each market survey.

This year, we will be conducting a survey among subscribers to determine the extent to which each section of the book is used. Your cooperation in responding to this survey when you receive it will help us serve you better.

How to use the 1989 Editor & Publisher Market Guide

The data in this MARKET GUIDE is presented in four sections:

I — Market Ranking Tables

These tables show, ranked by size according to E&P estimates for 1989, the population, disposable income, income per household and total retail sales of all MSAs, PMSAs and the top 250 counties and cities of the U.S. New this year are the ranking tables for the 9 categories that comprise the total retail sales for the top 250 cities.

II — Individual Market Surveys—United States

Facts and figures about all United States daily newspaper markets, listed alphabetically by state and city in the U.S.A., followed by Puerto Rico. The sample survey below shows the information included, and how the data is generally shown. A state map introduces surveys for each state, showing MSAs, PMSAs, CMSAs, county boundaries, location of all daily newspaper cities, and county-seat cities without daily newspapers.

III — Individual Market Surveys—Canada

Facts and figures about all Canadian daily newspaper markets. The map for Canada shows national and provincial capitals, and location of all daily newspaper cities.

IV — Sales, Population and Income Tables

E&P 1989 retail sales estimates, total, and in nine categories with number of stores in each, for all MSAs or PMSAs, U.S. counties and daily newspaper cities. Tables are arranged alphabetically by state (by province in Canada), followed by tables of estimated 1989 population, personal income — total, per capita and per household; also number of farms and value of crops and livestock.

DEFINITIONS AND NOTES

ABC—Adjacent to certain population figures and newspaper circulations in the surveys in this book are references to the Audit Bureau of Circulations. The ABC issues standardized statements of the circulation of publisher members, verifies the figures shown in these statements by auditor's examination and disseminates the circulation data to advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers.

Each publisher's statement and audit report issued to members covers the quantity, quality, distribution of circulation and circulation methods.

ADVERTISING & MERCHANDISING DATA—The daily newspaper is the prime source of information on local conditions in each of the newspaper market areas. The name, address and telephone number of people able to supply more information about these areas appear in paragraph 14 of each survey.

CIRCULATION FIGURES—The March 1987 figures appear in most of the surveys. Where March 1987 figures are not available, proper notation is made. Also indicated with the figure is whether the circulation is verified by ABC (Audit Bureau of Circulations), VAC (Verified Audit Circulation), CAC (Certified Audit of Circulations), or CPVS (Community Papers Verification Service) or comes from a sworn statement by the publisher of the newspaper.

CITY ZONE (CZ)—The corporate limits of the city in which the newspaper is published, plus in some cases, the contiguous areas built up adjacent to or surrounding the city of publication. This could also include more than one city, where the areas involved are contiguous areas.

CONSOLIDATED METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREA (CMSA)—The larger geographical area of which Primary Metropolitan Statistical Areas are components. CMSA's are designated and defined by the Office of Federal Statistical Policy and Standards, U.S. Department of Commerce. A complete list of these areas appears on the following pages.

CONSUMER SPENDABLE INCOME—See "Disposable Personal Income" below.

DISPOSABLE PERSONAL INCOME—Sometimes referred to as 'Effective Buying Income" or "Consumer Spendable Income," is equal to current income received individuals, unincorporated business and non-profit institutions, from all sources. It includes all that is received as wages, salaries and commissions, including pensions, trust and welfare funds, labor, farm, non-farm, professional, rental, dividends, personal interest and transfer payments after taxes.

The amounts usually deducted for income, property, and other taxes not deductible as business expenses, as well as other general government revenues, such as fines, penalties, and so on, have been subtracted.

EFFECTIVE BUYING INCOME—See "Disposable Personal Income" above.

ESTIMATES—Figures on which estimates are based are always U.S. Government figures (U.S. Census) or in Canada, the latest available Census figures from Statistics Canada. Any other figures are either identified as to source or are considered "local estimates."

FARM DATA—County Data: The figures used in these tables for the counties are the latest released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The most recent agriculture census was made in 1982.

State Data: State totals of crops and livestock are released annually by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. State totals used in these tables are from the most recent USDA Statistical Bulletin. Footnotes at the bottom of each table show the year and source of data.

HOUSEHOLDS—Not to be confused with "families." The term "household" corresponds to "private dwelling unit" as defined in the Census Bureau's current operations, which would include all persons occupying a house or an apartment together.

INCOME PER HOUSEHOLD (DISPOSABLE INCOME)—The total average income earned or received by each household with direct or indirect taxes deducted.

METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREA (MSA)—A large population nucleus with adjacent communities which have a high degree of economic and social integration within that nucleus. Metropolitan Statistical Areas are designated and defined by the Office of Federal Statistical Policy and Standards, U.S. Department of Commerce. A complete list of these areas, with explanation of the standards applied to their designation, appears in the following pages.

NEIGHBORHOOD SHOPPING AREA (OR DISTRICT)—Indicates specific street locations of active retail trade.

NEWSPAPER DESIGNATED MARKET (NDM)—The geographical area which a newspaper considers to be the market it serves. Publisher members have the option of reporting circulation according to just the new NDM or in combination with a City Zone and/or Retail Trading Zone figure.

PASSENGER AUTOS—These figures are obtained from the various state departments of motor vehicles, where available, and generally on a county basis. However, in some states, no county breakdown is available. Motor vehicle figures in Canada are obtained from the Transportation and Communications Division of Statistics Canada.

PERSONAL INCOME—See "Disposable Personal Income" above.

PRIMARY METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREA (PMSA)—A Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA) of more than 1 million population which meets additional social and economic requirements and, together with one or more other PMSAs, forms a Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Area (CMSA). For more information, see explanation on following pages.

RETAIL SALES ESTIMATE TABLES—Based upon the lastest available (1982) U.S. Department of Commerce Census of Retail Sales, brought up-to-date, with considerations given to conditions and developments since the Census figures were collected.

Sales and "Kinds of Retail Stores" (as well as estimates) are reported as in the Bureau of Census reports, by type of store in which the sales are made (using the Standard Industrial Classification Manual codes and descriptions, all listed in this volume) rather than by the products sold. For example, many non food items are sold in food stores.

The sum of the nine types of stores will not add up to the total of retail sales estimates for each area since there is also a miscellaneous classification of stores not included in these tables.

In some areas (cities or counties), retail sales per household exceed the figures shown for total income per household. This is because of the influence or attraction an area may have on the shopping patterns or habits of those who live adjacent to or outside it.

RETAIL TRADING ZONE (RTZ)—The area beyond the City Zone whose residents regularly trade to an important degree with the retail merchants in the City Zone. In establishing the boundaries of the RTZ, consideration is given to the transportation facilities, traffic flow, traveling time and schedules by both public facilites, private cars and common carriers; as well as charge accounts, phone orders and regular delivery service from the central or City Zone to the outlying areas.

SHOPPING CENTER—The term is intended to apply to developments with a number and a variety of stores, including chains, supermarkets or banks, with extensive parking facilities, and located on or near a main highway.

STATISTICS CANADA—Canadian Government agency in Ottawa reponsible for all official statistics covering population, retail sales, etc.

STORES—Stores are typed according to the definition of the 1982 U.S. Census of Business (Retail Trade) which use the Standard Industrial Classification Manual codes and descriptions.

SUPERMARKET—This term involves these three conditions: annual sales volume of at least $1 million; four departments — dairy, meat, produce and groceries; and a grocery department that is entirely self-service.

RETAIL SALES ESTIMATES

The basis for kind-of-business classifications used in the Editor & Publisher Market Guide is the same as that used by the U.S. Department of Commerce in the Census of Retail Trade. This follows the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual (Executive Office of the President, Office of Management and Budget, Standard Industrial Classification Manual, 1972.)

The 1982 Census of Retail Sales conducted by the U.S. Department of Commerce was a gigantic task and required considerable time for evaluation and tabulation. The 1982 Census is the basis for the Retail Sales Estimates included in the 1989 edition. However, strict comparison of the data for both the 1977 and 1982 census is limited by the following factors:

Geographic boundaries of a number of areas for which data are shown in the 1982 census are not the same as in the 1977 census because of annexations, other boundary changes, redefinitions of SMSA's, and changes in qualifying criteria since 1977. For 1982, data for census-defined, unincorporated places are no longer shown separately but are included as part of the "remainder of county" statistics.

In the 1977 census, and prior to that, the combined data for all establishments were presented for selected kind-of-business classifications, including all 2-digit major industry groups. For these, data for nonemployer firms were obtained from administrative records of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) based on business tax returns. For 1982, data for nonemployers and combined data for all establishments are presented only at the retail trade total level for all geographic areas.

For your quick reference, we provide a complete list of the major group classifications of stores included in the Tables of Estimated Retail Sales in Section IV; the Miscellaneous Retail Stores category in this list is not included in the Tables. Numbers following names are SIC codes; PT following the SIC codes refers to "part"; n.e.c. refers to "not elsewhere classified."

METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREAS
(MSAs, PMSAs and CMSAs)

METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREAS are defined according to a set of detailed standards prepared by the Federal Committee on MSAs which advises the Office of Management and Budget. These standards are periodically reviewed in connection with each Decennial Census of Population.

The general concept underlying the MSA is that of a geographic area consisting of a large population nucleus together with adjacent communities which have a high degree of economic and social integration with that nucleus.

An MSA includes one city of at least 50,000 or more inhabitants or an urbanized area of at least 50,000 with total metropolitan population of at least 100,000. MSAs are defined in terms of entire counties; each MSA has one or more central counties, containing the area's main population concentration. In addition to the county (or counties) containing the main city (or cities), an MSA may also include outlying counties which have close economic and social relationships with the central counties. Such counties must meet certain standards regarding "metropolitan character," such as population density, and must have a specified level of commuting to the central county(ies). For example, counties with a commuting rate of 50 percent or more must have a population density of at least 25 persons per square mile. When the commuting rate is lower than this, the density requirement proportionately increases.

In the six New England states, however, MSAs are defined in terms of cities and towns rather than entire counties. Because smaller areas are used, the total MSA population requirement is reduced from 100,000 to 75,000.

The official title of an MSA always includes the state or states into which it extends and the name of the largest city in that MSA. It might include several cities — as many as three — all dependant upon relative and minimum populations of the central city and other cities in the MSA. When more than one city appears in the MSA title, they are usually ordered by their relative populations.

In total, there are 265 recognized MSAs and 21 CMSAs, consisting of 73 PMSAs. Most MSA definitions are not subject to change until after the next national census. However, a few new MSAs may be added each year, usually because additional cities have reached the 50,000 population level according to official population estimates.

An area with more than 1 million population may be defined as a PRIMARY METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREA. A PMSA is a large urbanized county or a cluster of counties that exhibit very strong social and economic links. Local opinion, obtained through Congressional delegation, is also a very strong factor in determining if an area will be designated a PMSA. The specific standards for defining PMSAs are as follows:

1. The area must include at least one county that has a population of more than 100,000;
2. At least 60 percent of this county's population must be classified as urban;
3. Less than 50 percent of its workers commute to jobs outside of the county.

The larger area of which all PMSAs are component parts is defined as a CONSOLIDATED METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREA.

MSAs in New England have been combined to form NEW ENGLAND COUNTY METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREAS (NECMSA).

The complete criteria used in defining metropolitan statistical areas can be obtained directly fom the Office of Federal Statistical Policy and Standards, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

EDITOR & PUBLISHER'S MARKET RANKINGS

Leading U.S. cities, counties and metropolitan statistical areas ranked according to EDITOR & PUBLISHER estimates for 1989

This year Editor & Publisher has once again compiled market-ranking tables to help advertising and marketing executives plan programs for the coming year. These tables have been a feature of the E&P Market Guide since they first appeared in the 1964 edition.

The rankings, based on E&P estimates for 1989, are shown for: population, disposable personal income, income per household and total retail sales, as they have been since 1964.

This year, we have also added new ranking tables — at the MSA and county level — for the nine categories that make up total retail sales, and they are as follows: lumber/hardware, general merchandise, food, auto, gasoline, apparel, furniture, eat/drink and drugs.

Rankings are provided for all cities or communities in the United States in which newspapers are published on a daily basis, for all counties whether daily newspapers are published in them or not, and for all metropolitan statistical areas in the United States, as defined by the Office of Management and Budget.

The tables are tabulated by computer and are based on the 1980 U.S. Census and the 1982 Census of Business, and 1989 research estimates by E&P Research, Inc.

DO YOU KNOW...

A. How many Atlantans periodically get run out of town?

B. How many are searching for the perfect little black dress?

C. How many make their best friend take a bath?

D. How many are tightening their belts?

E. How many believe money talks?

If you don't, you can find out in the 1987/88 Scarborough Atlanta Market Study. This survey of Atlantans' shopping patterns, demographics, leisure activities and other habits is the most comprehensive consumer survey done in Atlanta. It's the resource to use when you want to know about Atlanta.

10 - CLIMATE: Los Angeles Civic Center. Min. & Max. Temp.-Winter 48-69; Spring 50-73; Summer 60-84; Fall 53-83.

11 - TAP WATER: Water hardness ranges from 4.2-15.1 grains per gallon. The alkalinity also varies, ranging from 5.4-8.6 grains per gallon. The Owens River Aqueduct accounts for approximately 70% of the water supply and is moderately soft with 4.2 grains per gallon total hardness and slightly alkaline with 5.4 grains per gallon. Other water supplies include the Los Angeles Aqueduct, River Supply Conduit and various reservoirs.

12 - RETAILING: Principal Shopping Centers-Los Angeles is unique in that shopping centers are spread throughout the market and each represents a major shopping center for that area. Downtown Los Angeles thus represents one of many. It extends 8 blocks N & S from 1st St. to 9th St. & 7 blocks E & W from Spring St. to Figueroa. In discussing the retailing structure of Los Angeles, Orange County, which is part of the marketing area and part of the primary market or city and retail trading zone of Los Angeles metropolitan newspapers, becomes an integral part. All following figures are, therefore, for Los Angeles and Orange Counties.
Neighborhood Shopping Centers-In the Los Angeles Marketing Area there are 110 incorporated cities with their central shopping districts and community shopping centers. In addition there are 62 spacious regional centers, which include department stores, supermarkets, shops, restaurants and parking areas.
Principal Shopping Days-Dept.-Mon., Thur., Fri., Sat.; Food-Thur., Fri., Sat., Sun.

Newspaper facts, figures, and personnel data are at your fingertips...in the pages of the Editor & Publisher International Year Book

The Editor & Publisher International Year Book works hard for you. When you need accurate, up-to-date information about the newspaper industry, it is your most authoritative source.

The Editor & Publisher International Year Book is the encyclopedia of facts about newspapers, and about the companies, groups and organizations supplying and serving them. It has over 250,000 facts, many you won't find anywhere else, in 7 big easy-to-use sections:

- Daily newspapers published in the U.S.
- Weekly and special service newspapers published in the U.S.
- Newspapers published in Canada
- Newspapers published in foreign countries
- News and syndicate services
- Mechanical equipment, supplies and services
- Other organizations and industry services

It's ALL in the Editor & Publisher International Year Book.
To order your copy, complete the coupon in Section IV and mail it to us.

TAMPA BAY
MOVES WITH THE TIMES.

St. Petersburg. Tampa. Clearwater.

Many cities comprise Tampa Bay, Florida's largest and wealthiest market. But only one newspaper unites these communities, moving more products and services — the St. Petersburg Times.

Read by 693,100 adults every day and 775,800 adults on Sunday, the Times delivers Tampa Bay's largest audience.

And it's an upscale audience — a single advertising insertion in the Times reaches:

- More college educated adults.
- More chief wage earners.
- More top income households.
- More buying prospects in nearly every product category than any medium serving the Bay Area.

If you're looking to move merchandise in America's 20th largest metro area, run with the newspaper that delivers more for your ad dollar — the St. Petersburg Times.

[illegible] 1987 [illegible] Report

To move more merchandise in Tampa Bay, call General Advertising at (813) 893-8249 and ask for your copy of our 1989 Tampa Bay Market Profile.

Represented nationally by CWO&O.
